Absence From Islands

(Special Star-Bulletin Cable)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 1.—The resignation of George Rodiek, ex-German consul at Honolulu, which was scheduled to take place tomorrow before the United States commissioner, has been postponed until Monday. The argument of Rodiek's demerit will also be heard then.
Von Schack and Capella, along with six others, have entered demerits in the Sacramento case. No action was taken today in the case of H. A. Schroeder, formerly secretary to George Rodiek, and who is out on bail for $10,000 in Honolulu.

GEORGE RODIEK, vice-president of Hochfeld & Co. and former German consul in Honolulu, who was recently indicted by a federal grand jury for violation of the neutrality laws of the United States, wirelessly his resignation as president of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association to W. O. Smith, secretary of the organization. The message was received here late yesterday afternoon.
At a special meeting of the trustees of the association this morning, the resignation was accepted and E. D. Tenney, vice-president, was elected to succeed Rodiek. E. H. Wodehouse was asked to fill the vacancy by Tenney's promotion.
Absence from the territory for a period of long duration was given as the reason for Rodiek's tendering his resignation, and he requested that it be accepted immediately.
According to the statements of the present at the meeting of the association trustees there was comment upon the Rodiek resignation when it was presented. But on that once were made and second that he be succeeded by E. D. Tenney, later followed by the election of Wodehouse as vice-president among the trustees present at this morning's meeting were: Faxon, H. H. Rogers & Co.; W. O. Smith, the secretary; E. D. Tenney, Frank Atherton, of Castle & Cooke; John W. Wodehouse, of Alexander & Baldwin; H. H. Wodehouse, of Theo. Davies Co.

I. W. W. Leader Is Lynched By Butte Crowds

Agitator Accused of Fomenting
Trouble Among Farmers and Miners Dealt Death

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)
BUTTE, Montana, Aug. 1.—Frank Little of the executive committee of the I. W. W.'s was today taken from his cell and lynched by a band of vigilantes.
It is alleged the labor agitator was fomenting trouble among farm workers and in the mining districts, and is reported to have threatened the life of Governor Campbell. In a telegram to the governor he called soldiers "scabs in uniform."
He was recently a resident of Globe, Arizona.

CARTER ROUSES HEARERS BY ADDRESS ON DUTY TO AMERICA

In a ringing speech for the principles of America and humanity, and against Prussianism, Former Governor George R. Carter roused Ad Club members to round about of patriotic applause today at the noon luncheon. He said:
"Does the Ad Club believe in supporting the Constitution of the United States of America? I want an answer, yes or no."
The unity and volume of your reply shows that you must also believe in defending the constitution against all enemies, foreign or domestic, and now that we are at war.
Our Domestic Enemies
"Let us consider who are our domestic enemies. I maintain that they are those who love and admire Germany, Austria, or Turkey more than

ROUND-UP OF SLACKERS STARTS TUESDAY; PRISON AWAITS ALL UNREGISTERED

Beginning next Tuesday morning every man in the territory between the ages of 21 and 31 who does not have a registration certificate will be arrested. The punishment is one year in prison, with no alternative of paying fine.
"With the same systematized manner that made yesterday's registration so complete a success, the territory, beginning next Tuesday morning, will be combed for slackers. Every town and hamlet, every hill and canyon will be covered," said F. J. Green, executive officer of the central board of registration, today.
Mr. Green would make no statement today as to the probable number of men who will come in to register between now and Tuesday. He had no way of estimating them, he said.
Shortly after he arrived at his office this morning in the capital a Russian Finn was brought in by a fellow countryman. He had no card, his excuse being that he could not understand English and did not know it was necessary for him to register. He was sent at once to police headquarters, with instructions to get his name on a card forthwith.
Likewise the registration chief refused to estimate on the number of slackers. He hopes there will be none whatever, but if they are found they will be dealt with accordingly.

HONOLULU SETS NEW RECORD IN REPORTING REGISTRATION FIGURES TO U. S. OFFICIALS

Complete Tabulation of 27,000 Enrolment is Forwarded to Washington Midnight Tuesday—Next Big Question is Settling of Exemptions and Non-exemptions of Registrants

"Preliminary report. Territory of Hawaii shows citizens, 7940; aliens, 18,000. Total, 25,970."
This is the message that was sent at five minutes to 12 o'clock last night to Brig. Gen. E. H. Crowder, present marshal general in charge of the selective draft.
"With the sending of this report on day of registration," said F. J. Green, executive officer of the central board, this morning, "Hawaii sets a new record. No state in the Union got its report to Washington in such time."

"Hawaii has already established a national record with its guard strength above quota. My hope is that still a third one may be made in the matter of expense. I trust that the counties will take the matter of expenses in general the same boards that have headed the registration on each island will be again called into service for the exemption work, it is believed. These are the county sheriff, the county clerk and the county physician.
The exemption process will not take a great deal of time. It is difficult to calculate the time the local boards will need in passing on the cases that come before them. The regulations provide that decision in any individual case shall not be delayed more than three days by the local board or an additional five days where appeal is taken to the district boards.

Since July 1 water has been coming in at the rate of three feet an hour, and it was necessary to burn part of the cargo, composed of ironwood and copra, to keep the donkey engines working the pumps.
The value of the cargo burned will amount to about $1000.

Sugar Price Goes to $7.02 In N. Y. Market

For the first time in nearly 30 years, 96 degree centrifugal sugar is selling for $7.02 per hundred pounds, according to "cable information received by the Star-Bulletin. This price was attained in the New York market yesterday, with the refiners buying heavily.
Tables in the possession of A. M. Nowell, secretary of the Hawaiian Sugar Factors, show that the price of sugar has not reached this figure since the high prices which reigned for eleven years between 1878 and 1889. During this period the yearly averages varied from $6.37 and $8, to as high as $9.75 in 1889. In 1877 the unprecedented figure of $11.12 was reached. It was the high prices prevailing from 1877 to 1889 which were partly responsible for the placing of sugar on the free list from 1890 to 1894.

The duty on sugar in the period of extremely high prices was $55 per ton. The present duty is $35.12 per ton. But in the 1877 to 1889 period the Hawaii was under the reciprocity treaty with the United States and her sugar was admitted free as now. The difference in production, however, is great, as the Hawaii crop in 1877 was about 10,000 tons.

The average selling price of the Hawaii crop for last year was $5.786, for a crop of about 600,000 tons. If the present prices were to be maintained the Hawaii planters, on an estimated crop of 630,000 for this year, would receive $15,548,400 more for their sugar crop than they did for the past year.

Alexander & Baldwin received the following radiogram today from San Francisco regarding the sugar situation:
"The market is strong and refiners here are bidding 6.95 cents a pound for the August shipments of Cuban sugar. The trade expects a price of 7.02 cents soon. During the week all refiners have bought fairly large quantities of sugar. An unusually good business has been done in domestic and foreign refined sugars at higher prices."

Matson Liners Not To Be Commandeered At Present By U. S.

Authentic Information Received By Captain Matson From Federal Government

Neither the Matsonia nor the Maui will be commandeered by the government at present. Such is the information received from Capt. William Matson by E. D. Tenney, president of Castle & Cooke, agents for the Matson Steamship Co., in Honolulu.
The information is authentic and based on advice received direct from the federal government by Capt. Matson. He received the news from Washington shortly before the Maui departed on this voyage to the islands in a letter from Paymaster General Samuel McGowan, chief of bureau of supplies and accounts of the naval department in Washington.
Capt. Matson's letter to Tenney reads as follows:
"I have just received a letter from Paymaster Samuel McGowan notifying me that the government will not take the Matsonia and Maui at present time. This will be good news for the islands."

JOHN F. HALEY CRITICALLY ILL

Late today it was learned that Haley's condition was much improved, and that he has evidently taken a sudden turn for the better.

John F. Haley, collector of internal revenue, is critically ill today at the Beretania sanitarium, where he was removed following a sudden change yesterday for the worse.
Collector Haley has been too ill to attend to the duties of office for several weeks, but lately it was thought that his condition was growing better. He took a good rest at the sanitarium for several days recently and improved to such an extent that he was determined to return to his rooms at the Young hotel, though it is understood he was advised against leaving the hospital at the time.

16-Year-Old Slav, Twice Wounded In Great War, Is Here

Violinist Bears Decorations of Honor for Valorous Service on East Front

TWICE wounded on the Eastern front, where he was fighting with the Russian troops, but now on an indefinite leave, Paul Iogolewitsch, a 16-year old violinist of unusual skill, arrived in Honolulu this morning on the Maui to give a concert here for some war benefit. He is accompanied by his manager, Richard Kiegin, who only recently returned from France. They expect to be here for at least two weeks, but are undecided where they will go from here.

Iogolewitsch was 13 years old when he first ran away from his home in Petrograd in 1914 and attempted to enlist in the army. His father followed and had him returned. A year later he was successful in his attempt to reach the trenches despite his youthful appearance.

For his services in the Eastern theater of the war he received a medal of valor and also the Cross of St. George, conferred by the duma. Another cross he has was presented by the now deposed czar.

He received two wounds. In one charge a rifle bullet pierced his abdomen. In another siege a shell from a big German gun passed so close that it produced shell-shock, paralyzing for a time his entire right side, so that he was unable to speak, hear, or move his limbs. He was in a military hospital in Petrograd two months, and when discharged from the service went into a private sanitarium.

As soon as he had regained sufficient strength to take up his violin again he gave concerts in the military hospitals, and for this work he received the Imperial Cross from Princess Olga, daughter of the late czar.

He is a graduate of the Petrograd Conservatoire, where he studied under Professor Nalbandian.

Ogolewitsch's manager is Richard Kiegin, who was manager-director of the Willard-Johnson fight at Havana, in 1915. Kiegin has managed a number of baseball and motor polo affairs throughout the world and has been identified with athletic events for a number of years.

"The war goes on and we shall be victorious."
"God is with us!"

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

'SLACKERS' ARE SCARCE; FEDERAL AGENTS ON JOB

Up to press time this afternoon no "slackers" had been arrested by U. S. Marshal J. J. Smiddy or his deputies and no complaints had been received regarding the existence of "slackers."
"If there are any 'slackers' at all, they will be but few in my opinion," said the marshal today. "But one can never tell what may turn up."

Marshal Smiddy was called upon to give advice yesterday in the cases of four white men, who did not have a clear understanding of the registration regulations, and who were uncertain as to their ages. They were not sure of the years in which they were born.

The marshal told them that they had better register to be on the safe side, and explained that the question of ages could be settled at a later date. They registered.

Aside from Marshal Smiddy and Deputies Silva and Helmie, 11 special deputies are on the lookout in different parts of the territory for "slackers."
